¹ Please note that NLRB Rules and Regulations Section 102.2(c) states that “[r]equests for extensions of time filed within 3 days of the due date must be grounded upon circumstances not reasonably foreseeable in advance.” The due date for oppositions is July 30, 2020, and the request for an extension of time was filed on July 30, 2020, the same day as the document’s due date. Despite being filed within three days of the due date, there is no explanation in the extension request as to why the need for the extension was “not reasonably foreseeable in advance,” other than “previously scheduled Federal Court deadlines” (which as “previously scheduled” would appear to have been “reasonably foreseeable”) and “dealing with COVID-19 issues for union clients” (which may or may not have been foreseeable, depending on what issue arose when). However, due to the pandemic and because the requested amount of additional time is not excessive, we will allow the extension.
